Hello! How are you guys?
user1

Hi
user2

Im good thanks! I think both parties, democrats and republicans are hypocritical. What do you think?
user2

Interesting perspective, i tend to think humans are like that in general.Why do you think that Jennifer?
user1

yes agreed!
user2

Why do you feel that democrats are hypocritical?
user1

I think republicans are more hypocritical. They are constantly delivering empty platitudes and doing the opposite.he opposite
user2

they are always bashing someone. When its election time, all I see are politicians bashing eachother on tv no matter what party they are. Its terrible.
user2

I tend to agree with that, for example the pro-life argument. Itâ€™s hard to argue pro-life when many arenâ€™t willing to adopt or help care for those children
user1

Such as their staunch support of protecting children and opposing abortion but they refuse to do anything about children living in poverty or shootings that target children.
user2

exactly
user2

all they care about is making money and making sure people vote for them again
user2

I agree with the bashing on both sides though, itâ€™s ridiculous
user1

Even a few years ago with the border situation. The very firs thing they did was separate children from their parents, incarcerating them while losing contact with the families and now we have lost migrant children still living in captivity.
user2

yes its crazy. Im not sure why we cant just all get along and work together. We would get so much more done in this country.
user2

Thatâ€™s a great point, Hippo. I do think that neither side is trying to do anything about the immigration/border situation though
user1

yea I dont think biden even brought it up again, its like everyone forgot.
user2

Yeah what solution do you feel like anyone has brought up?
user1

about the immigration/border situation
user2

like you said, no one is doing anything
user2

Even their stance on small government is hypocritical. They'll say things like they want to leave government to the people and to states but they steal supreme court seats, they ban books and education and rights to healthcare, or voting, they strip a lot of the decision making away from citizens. Our only solution is to vote out republican senators so that progressives can get a bigger majority or else we will continue to lose our rights.
