I think its pretty fair to say that Republicans are clearly more hypocritical for many reasons.
user1

I agree, I think both parties have their hypocrites, but since I have to choose I'd say republicans are more so.
user2

For example, their "pro life" stance. They want to ban abortion but they don't care about that life once its born, especially if its poor or a minority.
user1

They are also more concerned about protecting a fetus than a child getting gunned down at school. Not very pro life if you ask me.
user1

Yes I have seen many examples of republicans being pro life but not doing anything such as helping woman or children in the system, etc.
user2

Alot are also against things such a sex education which would help decrease pregnancies and would eliminate the need for abortion in the first place.
user2

So it doesn't add up
user2

This also extends to the fact that they base their political beliefs on religion. Yet Christians are supposed to be accepting and loving of others, help others, do unto others as you would want done unto yourself. Yet they are the most hateful group out there.
user1

Exactly, many are homophobic, transphobic, racist, but are supposed to be accepting of others.
user2

I agree with the sex education too. All goes back to religion, yet this country was built on separation of church and state. Another thing Republicans seem to forget. Freedom of religion does not mean it can translate to politics.
user1

There's definitely many examples of when politicians bring religion into politics, and many of the times I think the country is moving backwards because of it.
user2

Totally agree
