I think that Republicans are more hypocritical because they say that they value life but they don't want to enact any gun control to save lives.

I think Republicans are more hypocritical. They talk all "Pro Life" and then act like they're helpless during the regular school shootings.
user2

Oh hey, I feel like we agree here.
user2

Yes, 100%
user1

That's handy
user2

Didn't take long to get consensus
user2

I'm gonna go ahead and call that a win for the team.
user2

No, I think we can all agree Republicans could do more to protect life. Theyre also pro death penalty, which isn't pro life, in my opinion.
user1

I'll drop another, they all claim to be devout Christians, and yet they tend to ignore Jesus' fundamental teachings.
user2

Bruh, Jesus actually fed the poor. Jesus didn't choose violence.
user2

It's actually easier to count the ways that Repubs aren't hypocritical.
user2

Thats true, they like to pick and choose things from their religious beliefs.
user1

Exactly. You hit the nail on the head. They like to cherry pick stuff that fits their narrative.
user2

That's true they think marriage is sacred but have no trouble electing people that have been divorced multiple times or have committed adultery.
user1

Ugh, marriage...
