I think it's pretty obvious that Republicans are more hypocritical.
user1

Anyone there?
user1

Yes, I believe so as well.
user2

Any particular topics that they seem especially hypocritical about?
user1

Yes, They claim to be for the working man, but, it's a lie. Tax the poor and the rich get richer
user2

Agree. They're fake populists.
user1

Yes, I don't know a ton about politics, but I know enough to say I'd rather be a democrat
user2

The republicans would get rid of Social Security if they could...what then?
user2

They only care about themselves, and how far they can push things.
user2

They're anti-abortion or "pro-life" but also pro-gun. They could care less what happens to the baby once born.
user1

They believe government is the problem but they run for office and refuse term limits.
user1

Ain't that the truth ! How about the shooting in Texas? They still won't budge on gun control
user2

Exactly. Guns have more rights than people, according to their version of the 2nd amendment.
user1

Crazy. Why do we let them get away with it? They care about the world, yet claim that Global Warming is not happening
user2

It would take one of their children getting shot and killed to change their mind about gun control
user2

They call themselves "Conservatives" but what are they conserving? Not the environment.
user1

I wonder about that. I'm not sure they would change even if it affected them directly. Their answer seems to be more guns, to everything.
user1