Records identified as responsive to your public records request have been uploaded to the DOH Public Records Center. This is your final installment. You will need to log into your portal account to access your requested records. Your file(s) will be available for 60 days, after which they will be no longer accessible. Since all identified records have been provided to you, this request is considered closed.

The healthcare data included was provided by local health jurisdictions, state investigators, and healthcare professionals. Records provided are current as of the date of the request, however, the records may retrospectively change over time as case and outbreak investigations gather more information. The Washington Disease Reporting System is a dynamic surveillance system that changes as investigations progress, thus cases and outbreaks may change in classification over time. As DOH staff reviews and assesses the data, future changes may occur that would affect/alter/change the records included in this report.

Some information within your requested records may have been withheld. Please see the Redaction Summary located at the end of each document for a list of redactions that were applied. If any records were withheld in their entirety, please refer to the Exemption Log provided to you.

Under RCW 42.56.520 you may appeal the decision to withhold information contained in the records via a request for review by the Department of Health's Public Records Officer. The request must be submitted in writing by one of the following methods:

1. Send an email request to PRRappeals@doh.wa.gov
