UCONNECT PRIVACY POLICY

Effective Date: July 1, 2014

This Uconnect Privacy Policy ("Policy") describes how Sprint and FCA US will collect, access, use, and disclose your personal information, vehicle information, and information related to your use of the Uconnect Services. It applies to the Uconnect Services as defined in the Uconnect Terms of Service, and which include the Uconnect website (driveuconnect.com) and the Uconnect Access application, provided by Sprint and its trusted service providers in partnership with FCA US. All terms in this Policy are fully enforceable by FCA US and FCA US affiliates. Our collection, access, use, safeguarding, and disclosure of your personal information and vehicle information, and the personal information of any of the occupants in your vehicle, are subject to U.S. law. This Policy only applies to information that Sprint or FCA US collect about you or your vehicle (including information from or about any of the occupants in your vehicle) through the Uconnect Services. This Policy does not restrict our use or sharing of information which is anonymized or in an aggregated form, (i.e. information that cannot be used to directly identify you or your vehicle). Information collected by Sprint or FCA US about you independent of the Uconnect Services (e.g., as a Sprint wireless customer) is not governed by this Policy.

INFORMATION YOU GIVE US Sprint collects the information you provide (for instance, when you register for the Uconnect Services or call Uconnect Customer Care for assistance), including, but not limited to, your name, mailing address, email address, telephone number, and credit card information.

INFORMATION SPRINT AUTOMATICALLY COLLECTS In addition to the information that you directly provide, Sprint may collect information from you or your vehicle (with Information You Give, all called “Collected Data”) which may include but not limited to:

Some of this data may be transmitted even after your ignition is off; and

- User Experience Data: information about the way you use the Uconnect Services that helps FCA US and Sprint improve, customize or communicate about services which are offered to you.

- Your information and your Vehicle Data (including Location Information) may be collected, used, disclosed, and shared in accordance with this Policy and U.S. laws, rules, and regulations. You consent to the collection, use, and disclosure of this data, including by FCA US. Your vehicle, as manufactured, may include certain features that may collect Vehicle Data (including Location Information) even before you buy your vehicle, and before and after your use of the Uconnect Services. We may use this data for diagnostics, troubleshooting, and to provide vehicle health and other information to you. If we collect Location Information after you buy or lease your vehicle but before you register for the Uconnect Services, we will obtain your consent. If you do not want this information to be collected, used, or shared, you may opt-out by performing the Remove Uconnect Account procedure or contacting us as described in the "Privacy Choices" section below.

HOW SPRINT AND FCA US USE YOUR INFORMATION Sprint and FCA US use Collected Data for a variety of purposes including, but not limited to provide the Uconnect Services to you; for troubleshooting and maintenance; to communicate with you about your account, primarily through the email address you provide at registration; to prevent fraud and misuse of the Uconnect Services; to allow Sprint and FCA US (and their subsidiaries, affiliates, and dealers) to evaluate and improve products or services, and to offer you new or additional products or services; to protect your safety and the safety of others; to comply with laws, regulations, court orders, and subpoenas or similar requests for information by authorities; to analyze vehicle information and vehicle use information for quality and product improvement purposes, and to enforce the Uconnect Terms of Service.
