Introduction and Purpose of this Dataset

This dataset provides ANES users with supplemental methodological variables for the ANES 2020 Times Series, including further information on the recruitment efforts and data collection process. This dataset includes: final disposition data for the full sample of addresses, sample frame information, incentive escalation details, survey paradata such as device login type, screener data, interviewer reports of video issues arising in the video interview condition, records of contact and attempted contact with all addresses (inbound and outbound mailings, emails, and calls), data collected from the video refusal conversion team, further information on the case validation efforts conducted to ascertain whether ANES interviewed the correct household respondent, inter-rater reliability data for open-ended coding, and Census data (restricted).

In some cases, a variable will appear in both the ANES Time Series full release and the methodology dataset. In these cases, the methodology dataset has data for a larger number of the sampled addresses, whereas the full release will focus on data for respondents that completed the Pre-election interview. For example, the variable V200003 provides the sample type (ANES 2016-2020 panel, 3Ar1 Fresh sample web only, etc.) for the 8,280 Pre-election completers in the full release. The variable V200003_m in the methodology file provides the sample type information for all of the 19,991 sampled addresses in 2020.

When a variable appears in both datasets, the methodology variable uses the variable name from the full release, with the suffix "_m" to indicate the methodology file. The methodology file often includes data for respondents that started the Pre or Post but did not complete the survey, whereas the full release only contains data for respondents that completed the Pre or Post. For example, 34 respondents in the Post logged in with a phone but broke-off before they were considered a sufficient complete. The methodology variable (V203075_m) has this data but the full release variable (V203075) does not. Additionally, there were 4 cases in the Post that were identified during case validation as having been completed by the wrong person. The data for these cases were removed from the full release, but some information (e.g., incentives paid) is still available in the methodology file.

ANES 2020 Methodology Dataset at a Glance

Title: ANES 2020 Methodology Dataset

Purpose: To provide users with supplemental methodological variables from the ANES 2020 Times Series on all sampled addresses, including disposition data, sample frame data, incentive escalation data, survey paradata, data from interviews in the video interview condition, record of contact with all addresses, data from the video refusal conversion team, case validation efforts, inter-rater reliability data, and Census data.

How to use with ANES 2020 Time Series: The data can be merged with the 2020 Time Series data on the 2020 case ID, using variable V200001.

How to use with ANES 2016 Time Series: For the 2016-2020 Panel data, data can be merged with the 2016 Time Series data on the 2016 case ID, using variable V160001_orig.

Number of records in this dataset: 19,991 records, which represent all sampled addresses from 2020.

Number of variables in this dataset: 374 variables.This user guide describes the overall categories of variables so that users can see which types of variables may be of interest.

Methodology

This dataset was generated by ANES based on the data received from Westat, the survey firm that conducted the 2020 Time Series. ANES project staff then prepared the data for release by extracting data, renaming variables for clarity, adding variable and value labels, labeling missing data, investigating any inconsistencies, creating summary variables, and joining separate files into one dataset.

Restricted-use data

As with other ANES studies, most variables from the ANES 2020 Methodology Dataset are included in the public-use data file that is available to the public for free. Access to some variables is restricted to protect respondent privacy. Such data are coded - 3, “Restricted access” on the public-use file. Restricted data include geographic details about where the respondent lives and detailed screener data. Most of these data may be obtained by following the procedures for special access described on the ANES website.

Description of the variables

1. version
   Gives the version date of the current file.

2. V200001
   Use this variable to join the methodology dataset to the ANES 2020 Time Series data.

3. V160001_orig
   Use this variable to join the methodology dataset to the ANES 2016 Time Series data for the 2016-2020 panel.

4. V200002_m
   Mode of interview for all respondents that started the pre-election survey.

5. V200003_m
   Sample type for the full sample of addresses.

6. V200020 - V200028
   Weights for the methodology file, including the original baseweight, unknown eligibility adjusted baseweight, household screener nonresponse weight, screener nonresponse weight adjusted for within household sampling, and the pre-election nonresponse adjusted weight. These weights are scaled to sum to the population size.

The original base weight (V200020), when subset to the 2016 sample cases, may be used to calculate a weighted 2020 re-interview rate for the 2016 sample. When subset to the fresh sample cases, this weight may be used to compare the sampled addresses to data concerning the sampling frame or the population of US addresses and to calculate a weighted response rate (AAPOR RR1) for the fresh sample. The unknown eligibility adjusted base weight (V200022) may be used to calculate an estimated weighted screener response rate (AAPOR RR 3) or for a weighted screener nonresponse analysis in which households responding to the screener are compared to households not responding to the screener. The screener nonresponse weight adjusted for within-household sampling (V200026) may be used to calculate a weighted pre-election response rate or for a weighted pre-election non-response analysis in which individuals responding to the pre-election study are compared to non-responding cases; this only applies for the fresh sample since the reinterview (2016) cases did not have within-household sampling at this stage. The household screener nonresponse weight (V200024) and the pre-election nonresponse adjusted weight (V200027) do not have evident applications to outcome rates or nonresponse analysis but serve as documentation of interim stages in weight calculations.

Note that the ANES full-sample weights on this file (V200020, V200022, V200024, V200026, V200027) represent several different populations and are scaled to sum to the population size when subset to one sample group (such as the web-only sample or the mixed-web sample); the sum of weights for the full dataset will be several times the population size. For the original baseweight (V200020), when subset to the re-interview cases the population is the 2016 population of voting-age US citizens; for the fresh sample, it is the number of U.S. households. For the unknown eligibility adjusted baseweight (V200022) and the household screener nonresponse weight (V200024), the population is the number of households containing an eligible adult U.S. citizen. For the screener nonresponse weight adjusted for within-household sampling (V200026) and the pre-election nonresponse adjusted weight (V200027), the population is the adult citizen population (but these are not calibrated, as the pre-election raked weight is).

7. V200050 - V200057
   Disposition data for the screener, pre-election survey, and post-election survey.

8. V200058 - V200060
   Indicators of video, web, and telephone mode offers. For sample 3C (Mixed-Video), respondents received the offer to complete a video interview if they completed the screener, and they received the offer to complete a web interview if they declined the video interview or if there had been sufficient non-response to video. For samples 3B (Mixed-Web) and 3C (Mixed-Video), respondents received the offer to complete a phone interview during a scheduled period late during fielding. For sample 2 (Reinterview), the offer to complete a phone interview was made on an ad-hoc basis after web nonresponse, when phone numbers were available.

9. V203000_m - V203014
   Geographic information for the entire sample. State, region, and congressional district are available for public release. Smaller geographic units (county, ZIP, tract) are available through restricted-use. For the reinterview sample, ANES recontact efforts sometimes indicated a new address for the respondent. The geographic information in the public-use variables reflect address updates that occurred until about June or July of 2020. For the restricted use data, if ANES received information during fielding that some reinterview addresses were deactivated and a new address was provided, the restricted use data reflects these changes.

10. V203050_m - V203056_m
    Device type and login date/time information for all web respondents that started the pre-election survey.

11. V203059_m - V203067
    Incentive information for the pre-election survey, including the visible cash experiment randomization and info on whether or not addresses received the escalated incentive offers to $100 and $200.

12. V203075_m - V203081_m
    Device type and login date/time information for all web respondents that started the post-election survey.

13. V203084_m - V203090
    Incentive information for the post-election survey, including info on whether or not addresses received the escalated incentive offers to $100 and $200.

14. V203100_m - V203138
    Screener data for all households that started the screener instrument. Information on larger households and roster details are restricted-use.

15. V203420 - V203431
    Video interviewer reports of technical (e.g., video/audio issues) and non-technical (e.g., confidentiality concerns) issues arising during the interviews.

16. V204000 - V204008
    Record of contact summary variables for outbound calls. These variables provide information on the field effort for the 2020 ANES Time Series study, including the total number of letters, emails, and calls made to all households in the sample.

17. V204009 - V204122
    For users interested in all of the specific outbound mailings and emails sent to households, these variables provide the details (description of mailing/email, date sent). The mail and email “code” variables correspond to the respondent protocols that will be released in the ANES 2020 Methodology Report.

18. V204123 - V204126
    Record of contact summary variables for inbound calls. These variables provide information on times when ANES respondents called or emailed Westat.

19. V204127 - V204182
    For users interested in all of the specific calls and emails received by Westat from ANES respondents, these variables provide the details (description of the contact, date). The Pre inbound email variables do not have the tag information.

20. V204183 - V204185
    Indicator variables for whether or not the household had a refusal to the screener, Pre, or Post at any point during data collection, even if the respondent eventually completed the survey.

21. V204186
    Indicator variable for whether or not the reinterview sample was sent a mailed invitation.

22. V204200 - V204227
    These variables provide details on the conversations that occurred when the Westat video refusal conversion team made contact with ANES respondents. These variables provide information on why respondents did not want to participate in the video interview and conversion strategies attempted by the team.

23. V204300 - V204358
    These variables are for users interested in agreement between raters for the industry, occupation, and spouse occupation open-ended coding.

24. V204400 - V204419
    These variables utilize Census data from the 2010 Decennial Census and the 2015-2019 5-year ACS datasets, as compiled in the 2021 Planning Database. They are available by restricted-use.
