Supplemental material for 'Can Transitional Justice Improve the Quality of Representation in New Democracies?'

Milena Ang & Monika Nalepa

April 2019

Codebook for `data.csv`

- `country`: Country
- `ccodewb`: World bank code for country
- `party`: Name of party
- `tyear`: Year in which country transitioned. Source: Geddes 2014, updated by us.
- `nyear`: Number of years since transition
- `cosal_3`: Average between `greed`, `cosal_d4` and `cosal_d5`. Source: own using DALP.
- `cosal_4`: Average between `greed`, `cosal_d4`, `cosal_d5`, and `cosal_dw`. Source: own using DALP.
- `cosalpo_4`: Cosalpo 4. Source: DALP.
- `totpostrans`: Total number of positive lustration events in country $c$. Source: own.
- `totnegtrans`: Total number of negative lustration events in country $c$. Source: own.
- `severity`: Severity of lustration in country $c$ measured as $severity_c = \frac{positive_lustration_events_c}{total_lustration_events_c+1}$. Source: own.
- `d_party`: Distance between each party $p$ and successor party in the country.
- `d_party_1`: Distance between each party $p$ and successor party in country, missing successor as average placement of parties in that country.
- `d_party_2`: Distance between each party and successor party of the country, missing successor as average successors in all countries.
- `d_party_3`: Distance between each party and successor party of the country, missing successor as average distance between parties and successors.
- `pressfreedom`: Freedom of the press in country $c$. Source: Reporters without Borders 2013.
- `mean_dw`: Mean ideological placement of party $p$ as reported by `dw` in DALP dataset
- `lparty` Opposition parties in legislature during authoritarian era. (1) Multiple parties allowed in the legislature, 0 o.w. Median value taken from the 5 previous years to transition. Source: Gandhi et. al.
- `succ_vs`: Vote share of the successor party in the inaugural election (as percentage). Source: own.
- `margin`: Margin of victory of the inaugural election (first place minus second place, as percentage of votes). Source: own.
- `miss_ele`: 1 if no dempcratic elections occurred or no authoritarian successor party in elections, 0 o.w. Source: own.
- `succ_vs_1`: Vote share of the successor party in the inaugural election (as percentage), missing values set to the mean.
- `margin_1`: Margin of victory of the inaugural election (first place minus second place, as percentage of votes), missing values set to the mean
- `miss_succ`: (1) if there are no successor parties after transition, 0 o.w.
- `gdppc2008`: Gross Domestic product per capita in country $c$, purchase power partity in 2008. Source: World Bank.
- `gdppc_trans`: Gross Domestic product per capita in country $c$, purchase power partity, first non-missing value after transition. Source: World Bank.
- `ruleoflaw`: Rule of Law Index 2015. Source: World Justice Project.