Disclosure Statement

Dear JAERE Editorial Board,

I received funding of $28,000 a year for two years of my PhD from the Dow Sustainability Fellows Program at University of Michigan, which is funded by the Dow Chemical Company. The Dow Chemical Company has no stake whatsoever in my research on energy efficiency disclosure in housing markets.

The housing price data are from the Multiple Listing Service (MLS), and come from a proprietary source, the Austin/Central Texas Realty Information Service ("ACTRIS"), which is the property of the Austin Board of Realtors. Texas is a non-disclosure state, which means that this is the only reliable source of housing transaction price data (see my paper for details). These MLS data are provided to me under a non-disclosure contract. I can provide information for contacts at the ABOR. They have shared their data with other researchers.

No parties had the right to review the paper prior to its circulation.

Sincerely,

Alecia Cassidy
