If you have to squeeze everything out of it just to get 30 hours then no it's not worth it

I'm not hatin on infinite at all I just find it hard to justify spending sixty dollars on something that I'll beat in a week. I'd much rather wait til the 20-30 range where the length of the campaign won't bother me as much.

on pc it definitely controls much better

the number keys are the vigors so switching is a breeze

No, I hate it because it's dumb. You're assuming that you and I will react to the game in the same way, which is just ignorant. Just because you don't think it's worth $60 doesn't mean I'll feel the same way.
