Same. It's funny cause whenever a case like this comes up, my female coworkers are all like "Disgusting. She deserves what she gets." and I'm just like sitting there masturbating to it in the corner.

Not really, tons of normal people love sonic too, which is reason enough for the fanbase to get together, but unfortunately he's also a furry posterboy so that fanbase corrupts it and then this happens

Y'know, people accuse Nintendo games of being kiddy, but there are few games that personify "kiddy" more than Sonic, and this thread is proof of that. At least Nintendo stuff can pass off as "all ages". Sonic characters look like they were designed specifically to sell shit to 10-year-olds.

Bah don't be using my old art, I see it there, yes, I drew it. I hate the picture as much as you do but come now, do we need to hate on everything else? Let alone Christianity, I see nothing wrong with being a proud Christian. I haven't bothered to read all of the thread so if I repeat what others say then apologies.

God what the fuck though, no wonder people don't like socializing, it's because anyone who tries to ever point out what they believe in or their own opinion they get bashed for it. I've been trying to improve on art lately, but it's because of places like these, whoever likes to pick on people expressing themselves in a manner that simply won't HURT someone else, it's because of this that I doubt I should even continue to try, let alone express my own opinions or religion. It's just a Christian character, nothing more.

I apologize but this isn't even the first time something like this happened and it's starting to get on my nerves. I'm sorry.

I probably'll forget to check to see if I have responses knowing me, also sorry for the "wall of text" like everyone calls it.

This motherfucker is responsible. We can now blame all war crimes, past and future, on him.

We need an all-out Vesti frontal assault.

Fck yeah the huge ass tail and fedora hat :'D You shall not seperate me from my new hat
Personality: Uh.. however I act XD
Why the halo? : To.. show i'm/he is Christian c;
Personal Attributes and other info: Plays piano, does NOT sing, Loves games, faithful in god, pacifist, knows some fighting, loves music.

Bah don't be using my old art, I see it there, yes, I drew it. I hate the picture as much as you do but come now, do we need to hate on everything else? Let alone Christianity, I see nothing wrong with being a proud Christian. I haven't bothered to read all of the thread so if I repeat what others say then apologies.

God what the fuck though, no wonder people don't like socializing, it's because anyone who tries to ever point out what they believe in or their own opinion they get bashed for it. I've been trying to improve on art lately, but it's because of places like these, whoever likes to pick on people expressing themselves in a manner that simply won't HURT someone else, it's because of this that I doubt I should even continue to try, let alone express my own opinions or religion. It's just a Christian character, nothing more.

I apologize but this isn't even the first time something like this happened and it's starting to get on my nerves. I'm sorry.

... "You are a fucking animal"

Really people? No one read anything I just said? Fuck it I give up, that was about as immature seeming as the picture I drew you people.

The fuck? Shadow's bulge is bigger than his head. We got some repressed homosexuality going on here.
