Yes, it was playable just one month ago. Patience.

That game had the most amazing climax and closure in any video game ever.

It was great.

I only ever played it once, but with improved visuals/fps, I am excited to play it through again.

This is like the 10th thread asking about the Journey port. Edit: Okay, 5th.

Have been waiting patiently.
Refuse to play it on PS3 since I know it's going to release some day.

Of course. Seems like a PS Plus candidate to me.

Of course it is. There's no way in hell Sony is going to pass up the opportunity to bring Journey to the PS4. If Flower and fl0w can make it to the new gen, Journey certainly can too.

It's just, y'know, taking a little longer than they had expected I guess.

Probably not the best place to ask, but we have not heard about he'll divers in a long while. :/ What's up with that?

Ohh I bet it's quietly cancelled as we speak.

and it is so likely we get cross buy because Sony is awesome. I feel most games like this have been generously gifted to us on PS4 and what is crazy is I would pay for the opportunity to play this gem again. I cant wait to see how much better it looks graphically.

If you haven't played this wonderful game be prepared for an emotional and visual treasure.

I've been wo dering this myself. I have a copy for my PS3 but when I heard there was going to be a PS4 version I figured I'd wait. It'll look even better and it'll have a higher population I guess.

Desperately want to play it!

Helldivers had an update at PSX, it's coming Q1 2015. (got delayed)

Honestly, a lot of the 'lower-priority-projects' like Unfinished Swan/Journey port and even Helldivers (at this stage) probably won't get any real marketing updates.

They're all quietly being worked on, and it's likely we'll find out the game's release date like a week or two before it releases, and that's all we'll get out of it.

Of course it is. Why would they cancel Journey for PS4 when it's one of the highest rated games from last gen and Sony owns it?

How likely is it that it will launch as a PS+ title without any further announcement?

It already played well and looked fantastic so I have no idea what the point of the re-release is, just a cash-grab I guess.

Get your head out the gutter and think of how many people never played this on ps3 but now own a ps4

Also if you own the ps3 version you already own the ps4 version

Why should people get a product they've never payed for?

People who already paid for it do. Otherwise no, of course not. Getting some people who never bought it before to consider buying it now is far from being a "cash grab", sheesh.

Nobody says they should. They would have to pay for it. Which is why I have no idea why the poster I responded to suggested "cross-play" in answer to my comment.

I've somehow managed to avoid most of the spoilers for this game and I am incredibly excited for it. All I know is there is a sand slide, religious implications, and another player can appear.

As somehow who did not own a PS3 I can't wait until this comes out.

Any chance they will up the multiplayer count. I can't help but think of the thrill of 30 wanderers sliding down the road of trials at once (though I will admit this might destroy a bit of the character of the game, let's not forget they released a video of the game as a FPS)

That should definitely be a thing.
Not too many, but 3 or 4 would be awesome.
