Is Nod really as bad as GDI makes them out to be? It just seems like they're a third world goverment that's fighting GDI.

Let me rephrase that, is Nod as bad as GDI wants everyone to think?

Their main goal is to spread tiberium, which is bad, but they think its good, so I wouldn't say that that makes them evil, just fighting for what the believe is right, which is good. But they show no regard for human life in the way the accomplish their goals, which is evil. In the end though, nod is a cult, and when have you ever heard of a cult that wasn't evil?

So are you saying that they are inherently evil in the sense that their methods are evil?

Can't be too evil, look at their tiberi-tech: tiberium infusion makes people immune to tiberium, thats good right? That's evolution right there.

Ummm... Nod has every element of evil seen in human history: giant corporations, religious fanatics, supreme dictatorship, destruction of the environment (spread of tiberium), use of brainwashed masses for cannon fodder, and worst of all twisting the facts to make GDI look like the bad guys. Gotta love 'em

They actually want to spread across to other worlds and leave this rock behind, which they should succeed in thanks to Kanes Tower, in their eyes they are further evolving the human race.

Lets not forget that there are certain people in GDI that also wanted to employ "questionable" methods to eliminate the Scrin and NOD, a Liquid T bomb in the middle of the Tiber River would have killed millions of people as well.
